

TEXAS-SIZED SOCCER

A StorySprout Press Book

Emma

TEXAS-SIZED SOCCER

In Texas, we like things big! Big hats, big sky, and especially big stadiums. Emma was ready for the biggest day of her life.

"Grandpa, will the stadium really be bigger than our whole neighborhood?" Emma asked.

"Even bigger, Emma!" Grandpa Jim chuckled. "Titan Tex is waiting for us!"

They drove toward Arlington, the truck bed filled with chairs and a cooler for tailgating. As they got closer, the sun reflected off the stadium's massive glass walls. It looked like a giant silver jewel.

"Titan Tex" stood in all his glory. He had a curved roof like a silver shield and a giant eye that could see everything on the field. Emma felt tiny next to his massive silver feet.

Titan Tex beamed a welcome from his giant eye. "HOWDY WORLD!" it flashed. "Howdy, Tex!" Emma shouted, waving her cowboy hat high in the air.

The tailgating was legendary! The smell of smoky Texas brisket filled the air. Emma played cornhole with fans from Germany.

Walking inside was like entering a giant's living room! "Did you know that screen is over 160 feet wide?" Grandpa Jim whispered.

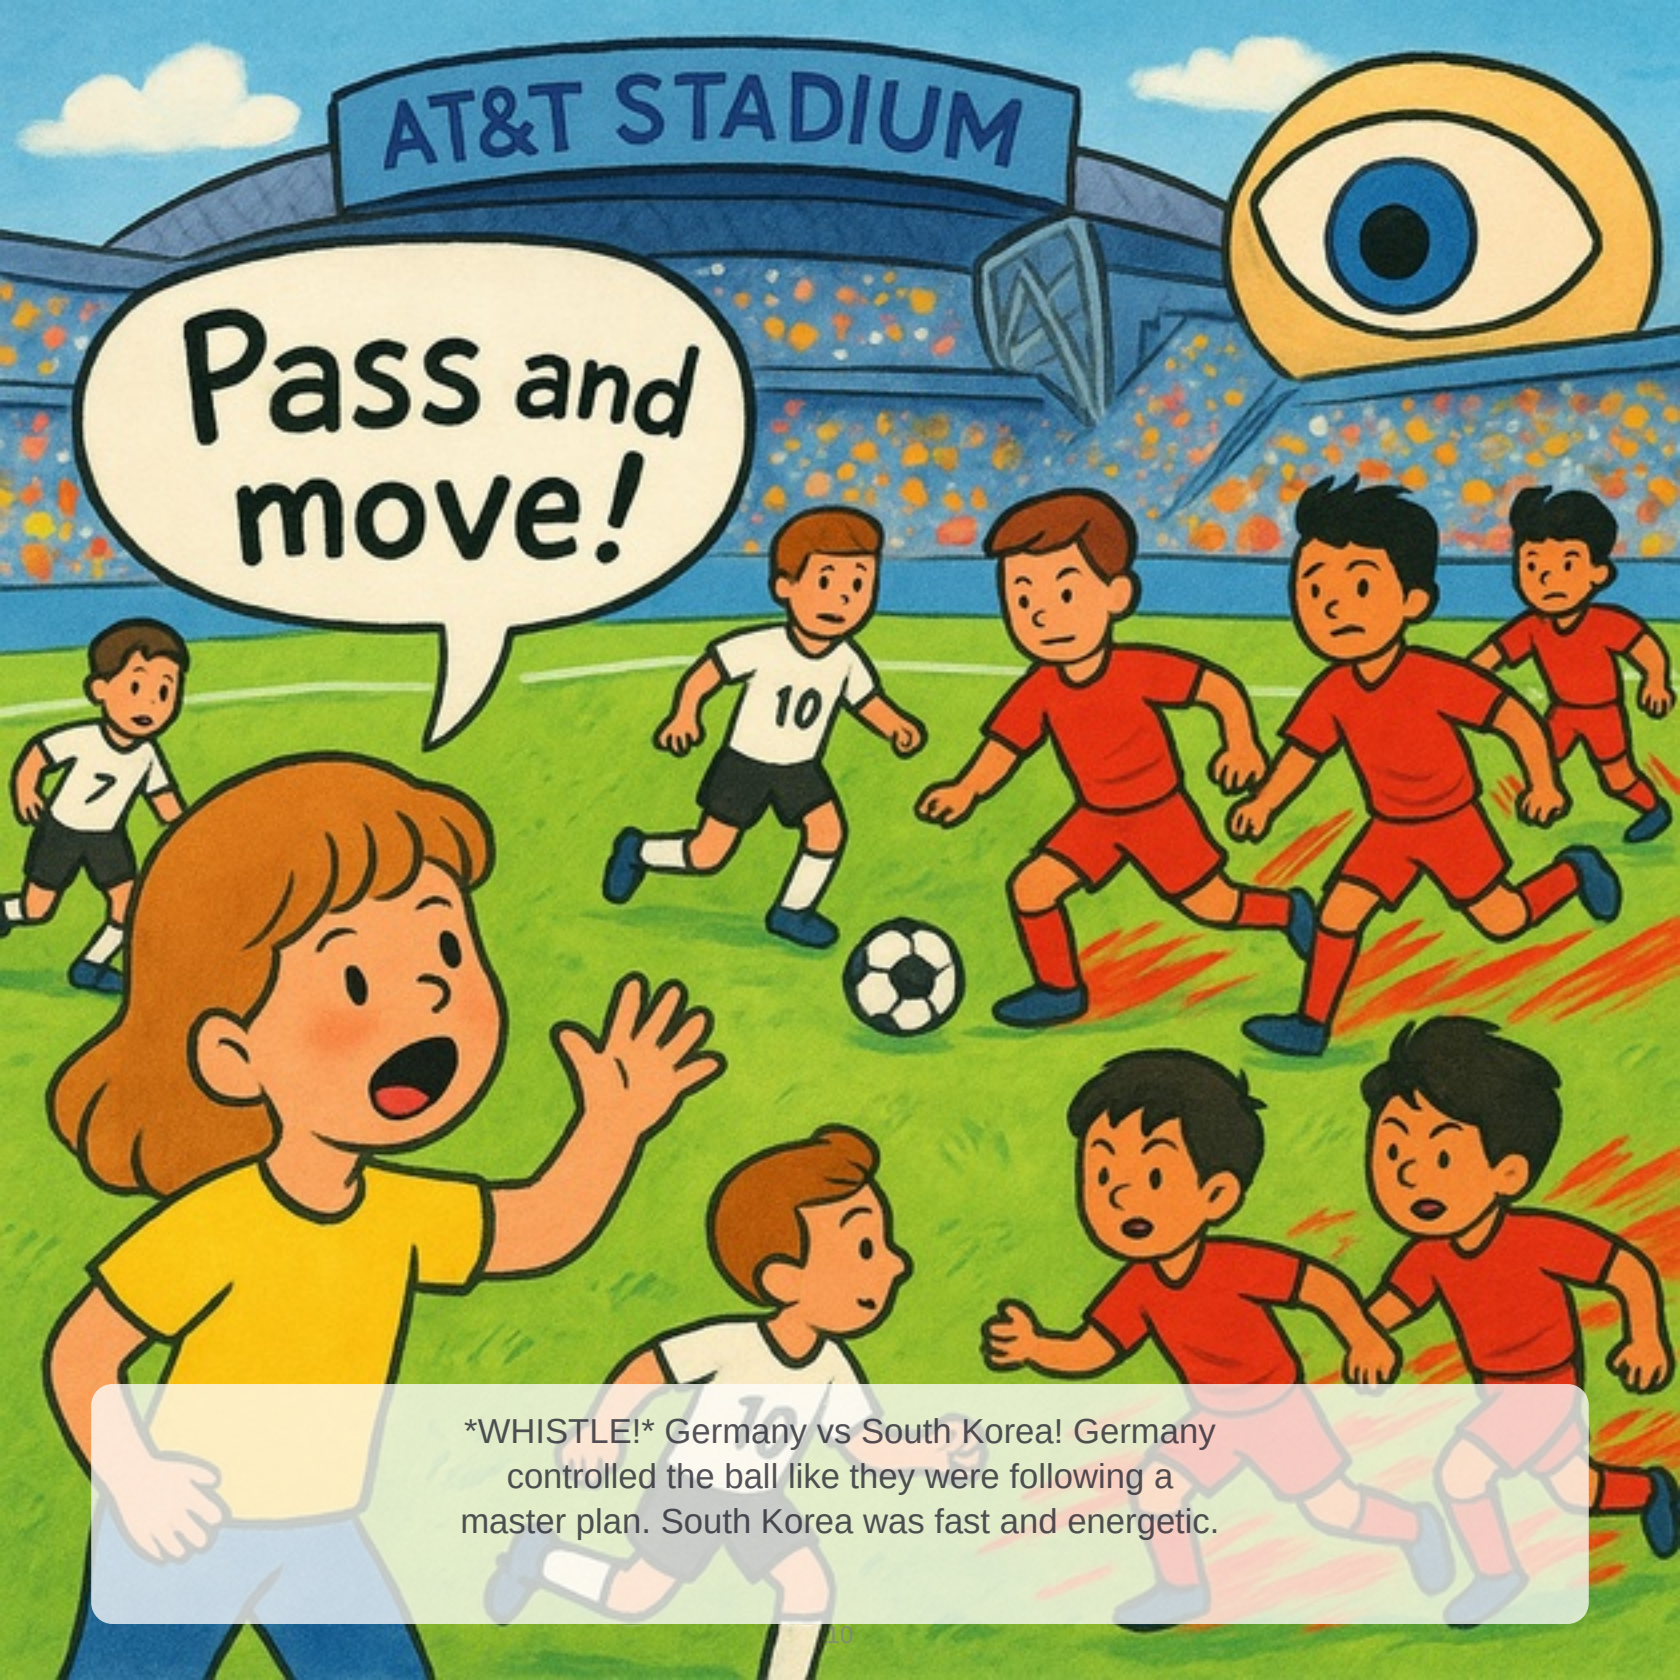

The pre-game show was a display of Texas precision! The giant end-zone doors were open, letting in a warm Texas breeze.

AT&T STADIUM

Then came Team Germany! They moved with the precision of a fine watch. Titan Tex focused his giant eye on the center circle.

WHISTLE! Germany vs South Korea! Germany controlled the ball like they were following a master plan. South Korea was fast and energetic.

TOR!

Suddenly, Germany attacked! A cross came in, and a player leapt high — THWACK! — he headed the ball into the corner. TOR!

Titan Tex's giant eye showed the replay over and over!

BIG TEXAS

PHOTO BOOTH

Between periods, Emma had some "Texas-sized" nachos. They were huge! "Soccer is great, but Texas food is even better!"

The next period was a whirlwind! South Korea pushed hard. They moved the ball with incredible speed, testing the German defense.

South Korea broke through! A fast counter-attack and — SWISH! — the ball was in the net. 1-1! The stadium erupted!

The final minutes were intense. Germany had a free kick just outside the box. The stadium was so quiet you could hear the wind.

The ball took flight! It curled over the wall of players. SWISH! Germany had scored again! 2-1!

TWEET! TWEET! TWEET! Germany won. Emma watched as the players shook hands. "That was a Texas-sized effort by everyone," Grandpa Jim said.

As they walked out, Emma met a boy named Hans from Munich. "Hope you liked Texas, Hans!" she said, giving him a high-five.

I want to be a goalie one day.

The drive home was peaceful. The big Texas moon hung over the stadium. "I'm going to be a goalie one day, Grandpa."

Back at home, Emma looked at the stars. She fell asleep dreaming of the World Cup Final in her hometown.

The fans went home, and Titan Tex rested his massive silver frame. Ready for the next big match.

The World Cup is coming to Arlington! Are you ready for some Texas-sized fun?

Texas is a land of legends and hospitality. 2026 will be the biggest year yet!

DID YOU KNOW?

AT&T Stadium's giant video board weighs as much as 30 elephants. Its massive glass doors.

Fun Fact: AT&T Stadium's video board weighs as much as 30 elephants! It also has the world's largest retractable glass doors.

TEXAS-SIZED SOCCER

About the Story

Join Emma and Grandpa Jim in Arlington for Germany vs South Korea at AT&T Stadium! Titan Tex's giant eye, Texas-sized nachos, and the biggest video board in the world make this a Texas-sized adventure.

Ages 5-9 | StorySprout Press

